ActivePT and Sports Physical Therapy

Mary Kleis, DPT
Doctor of Physical Therapy

Common Doesn't Mean Normal

It is estimated that 25 million Americans experience urinary incontinence. In fact, as many as 1 in 4 women over the age of 18 have symptoms of leaking urine involuntarily. Despite being common, bladder problems are not normal. Some people experience urinary incontinence which involves leaking with physical activity and/or coughing, sneezing, or laughing (stress incontinence). Others have difficulty holding urine because of a feeling of urgency (urge incontinence). Some experience a mix of urge and stress incontinence. Over half of individuals who suffer from these symptoms do not seek help due to embarrassment, misinformation, or shame. While there are medical conditions which contribute to symptoms of incontinence, these symptoms can also be related to pelvic floor muscle dysfunction.

The pelvic floor is a group of muscles, nerves, ligaments and connective tissue that create a sling from the pubic bone to the tailbone. This sling supports the bladder and all organs in the lower pelvis. The pelvic floor muscles assist in several functions including bowel and bladder control, sexual appreciation, support of the pelvic organs, and stabilization of the low back and hips. When these muscles aren't working correctly they can contribute to incontinence, cause pain and a variety of other issues that interfere with one or more of these functions.

Pelvic floor dysfunction is an undertreated and underdiagnosed issue that affects many men and women. It can cause a significant impact on a person's physical function and quality of life. This dysfunction can be evaluated by a specially trained physical therapist that treats pelvic floor disorders in women, men, and children including urinary incontinence, pelvic or tailbone pain, vaginal pain, sexual dysfunction, pelvic organ prolapse, and back, hip, or sacroiliac joint pain that has not improved with traditional physical therapy.

At Active PT in Lake City, our pelvic floor physical therapist, Mary Kleis, will address your stress/urge incontinence, pelvic pain or dysfunction by treating your stress and improving muscle coordination, strength, and function. After a comprehensive muscle examination, our therapist will create a treatment plan to address your personal concerns and improve your quality of life. Our sessions are one on one, in a private room, and individualized to your specific needs and comfort level. Pelvic floor physical therapists receive extensive training, beyond what is offered in physical therapy graduate school, and specialize in the muscles and function of the pelvic floor and the surrounding structures. If you would like to find out if pelvic floor physical therapy is right for you, please contact ActivePT for a free screening at 507-322-3460.

ADVANCED HEARING AID TECHNOLOGY

For Less Than $200

"I was amazed! Sounds I hadn't heard in years came back to me!"

— Don W., Sherman, TX

How can a hearing aid that costs less than $200 be every bit as good as one that sells for $2,250 or more?

The answer: Although tremendous strides have been made in Advanced Hearing Aid Technology, those cost reductions have not been passed on to you. Until now...

MDHearingAid® uses the same kind of Advanced Hearing Aid Technology incorporated into hearing aids that cost thousands more at a small fraction of the price.

Over 300,000 satisfied MDHearingAid customers agree: High-quality, FDA-registered hearing aids don't have to cost a fortune. The fact is, you don't need to spend thousands for a hearing aid. MDHearingAid is a medical-grade hearing aid offering sophistication and high performance, and works right out of the box with no time-consuming "adjustment" appointments. You can contact a licensed hearing specialist conveniently online or by phone — even after your purchase at no cost. No other company provides such extensive support. Now that you know... why pay more?

Can a Hearing Aid Delay or Prevent Alzheimer's and Dementia?

A study by the National Institute on Aging suggests older individuals with hearing loss are significantly more likely to develop Alzheimer's and dementia over time than those who retain their hearing. They suggest that an intervention — such as a hearing aid — could delay or prevent this by improving hearing!

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OUR 45-DAY RISK-FREE TRIAL!

Hearing is believing and we invite you to try this nearly invisible hearing aid with no annoying whistling or background noise for yourself. If you are not completely satisfied with your MDHearingAid, return it within 45 days for a FULL REFUND.
